

Body Psychotherapy Student Final Paper Award

Winners Student Final Paper Award 2014

In 2014 there were six entries from three FORUM Training Institutes:
Institut für Atem- und Körperpsychotherapie, Germany-Switzerland (3),
Reidman College, Israel (2)
Ecole Biodynamique, France (1).

The prize was awarded equally to three people:

- Mona Gollwitzer: (Institut für Atem- und Körperpsychotherapie, Germany-Switzerland) “Ich geh dann mal weg.” Kommunikation bei dissoziativen Phänomenen in der Atem- und Körperpsychotherapie
- Liron Lipkies: (Reidman College, Israel) The language of crying in body psychotherapy
- Grégoire Rodembourg: (Ecole Biodynamique, France) Lacan Biodynamique: un Autre regard sur les psychoses

All six papers have been assessed by two judges. All judges have read papers in more than one language. Four judges have read and judged the paper in the English language in order to see if it was possible to set a standard way of comparison. Three judges have read three of the German papers.

Each paper was given points on the assessment criteria.

The jury commented that they found reading the papers a very enriching experience and that they were impressed by the motivation of the students. They all felt it was a pity they were not able to read all the papers.

Abstracts in English of the three winning papers can be read here. They have also been published in the IBPJ Volume 14, Number 1 an issue devoted to research – section Student Research Abstracts.
